SYNOPSIS

Attempts to locate Waldemar Boris Kara-patnitsky to date have not been successful.

(A) INTRODUCTION:

Investigation was initiated upon receipt of a telephone call from Inspector Kelley on 8-3-64 requesting that Waldemar Boris Kara-patnitsky be located and interviewed regarding his association with Lee Harvey Oswald during the subject's stay in Moscow during 10-21 - 10-23-59.

(B) GENERAL INVESTIGATION:

On 8-3-64 the reporting agent proceeded to 160 West 106th Street, New York City. Could not find Kara-patnitsky's name on the mailbox or building directory, and could not locate the Superintendent. One of the tenants indicated that the superintendent would return about 5:00 P.M., and that the landlord, Mr. Fratkin, would return about 5:00 or 6:00 P.M.

The reporting agent then interviewed Mrs. Basevin, Apartment 5-E, who stated that she recalled that a person by the name of Kara-patnitsky a "Russian" as she stated, had stayed in the building, but had moved away.

The reporting agent then proceeded to the Cathedral Station Post Office and made inquiries concerning a removal for Kara-patnitsky, but found none on file.

Later on 8-3-64, returned to 160 West 106th Street, and interviewed Michael Fratkin, owner of the building. He stated that he remembered Mr. Kara-patnitsky, and knew that he was a businessman and moved away, and had heard that he was traveling in Europe.. He said that one time after Kara-patnitsky moved he received a postcard from Germany from him, but that he did not know where he could now be located. I checked his records and found that Kara-patnitsky paid his rent through the end of July 1960 and that to the best of his recollection he had resided in the house at least four years.

The reporting agent then interviewed Mr. M. Montalvo, building superintendent, who stated that he had only been the superintendent for about one year. He mentioned however, that Miss Elsie Killenger, who had recently moved away had formerly been a manager of the building and was quite familiar with all tenants.

On 8-4-64 the reporting agent checked the U. S. Post Office and found that Miss Killenger filed a removal on 10-23-63 to 150 East 56th Street, New York City, Apartment 3-G. The reporting agent proceeded to that address but found that Miss Killenger was not at home.

(F) DISPOSITION:

Miss Killenger will be interviewed.
